Guidelines for Transferring an IRA to an HSA

1. IRA transfers must be a direct trustee to trustee/custodian transfer.
2. You are typically allowed a one-time transfer from an IRA to an HSA. If you change from self-only to family coverage during the same tax year; however, a second distribution may be made, up to the maximum annual contribution limit for the family HDHP as determined in IRS Notice 2008-51.
3. The transfer is limited to the maximum HSA contribution for the year, and the amount contributed is not allowed as a deduction. Your total HSA contributions and IRA transfer cannot exceed the HSA contribution maximum.
4. The IRA transfer will not be included in income or subject to the additional early withdrawal tax.
5. If you establish an HSA in February or in a later month, you may still transfer IRA assets up to the annual contribution limit (when combined with other contributions). But you must remain eligible to contribute to your HSA through the last day of the following year ("Testing Period"), or a portion will be included in your income and subject to an additional tax.
6. Transfers can be made from a Traditional or Roth IRA, as defined in Internal Revenue Code Section 408(a) and Notice 2008-51.
7. You may only transfer your IRA funds to your HSA; a spouse's IRA may not be transferred.
8. A qualified HSA funding distribution relates to the taxable year in which the distribution is actually made. Therefore, you cannot complete an IRA to HSA direct transfer for a prior year.
